

Listening is central to the Christmas story...

Some found it easier to accept the message they were given than others
Zechariah struggled with the message that they would have a son in their old age
But in the end, he accepted that what he heard was true
Mary was greatly troubled when the angel appeared, she Listened and accepted his message
Joseph, the inn keeper, the shepherds, and wise men Listened as well

It is an invitation to all of us to Listen to the Presence of God within and among us
We Listen through each other and we Listen directly that we might hear God's message
A personal and direct message spoken into our lives

Let us Listen!
